

eB Underway

Harnessing e-Business energies already in motion to facilitate wide-area access to critical business and training information helps to foster the knowledge-centric/web-enabled environment in which we seek to operate. A prime example is the Navy and Marine Corps' cooperative effort to leverage their Distance Learning Programs. Through the integration of curriculum and content, coupled with the application of modern technologies, the Chief of Naval Education and Training and the Director of the United States Marine Corps Distance Learning Center are inculcating e-learning into military training and advancing the Department's state of readiness.

Strategic Planning Approach

Strategic Planning Approach

Our eB planning process integrates law, policy, operational objectives and DoD directives to ensure their cohesive coalescence in the DON eB Strategy. We have involved both DoD and DON activities who are engaged in various aspects of eB policy, strategy, and implementation. This plan incorporates aspects of external plans where appropriate to ensure harmony with the DoD EB/EC Strategic Plan, the DoD IM/IT Strategic Plan, the DON IM/IT Strategic Plan, the DON RBA effort, and various functionally focused eB and EC initiatives underway in the DON.
